

OHPE Update:

A Newsletter for Residents, Students,
& Clinician Educators

April 2022

From the Office of Health Professional Education

Congratulations to program leaders and trainees for navigating yet another successful residency match season!

Match day is the day for thousands of medical students and graduates from the U.S. and around the world to learn about the programs they matched with. This year, Main Residency Match Day was on March 18. According to the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP), the 2022 Main Residency Match included a record number of applicants and the largest number of total and first-year positions offered.

This year also saw a significant growth in the number of PGY-1 positions in Emergency Medicine, Family Medicine, Psychiatry, and Internal Medicine.

Our programs that participate in the program include Family Medicine, Emergency Medicine, Psychiatry and Dermatology. Not all programs participate in the March match day and fellowship matches occur throughout the year.

Upcoming Events

Reminder: ACGME Trainee and Faculty Survey deadline is April 17, 2022.

Apply for a knowledge bank grant

We're accepting applications for the Knowledge Bank grant from eligible HealthPartners employees. The Knowledge Bank is a fund supported by the generous contributions of HealthPartners' employees to support the education and career development of our colleagues. System wide educational opportunities including funding for event and workshops will also be considered.

We encourage colleagues to consider grants for exciting opportunities and utilize the funds to advancing the mission of HealthPartners to support training, recruitment, and retention, including well-being, equity and development opportunities for individuals, teams or groups as well as continuing education or training for healthcare professionals in new best practices, especially for certification in clinical skills.

Information about expanded eligibility criteria and additional information about the application process is available on the Knowledge Bank page on myPartner.

Join us for monthly Clinician Case Conference

Monthly Clinician Case Conference is a continued effort to provide educational collaboration and is co-lead by Tarrek Hegab, MD (Hospital Medicine) and Meredith Wold, PA-C (Institute.) The conference is designed for HealthPartners clinicians and interesting cases from our care group are discussed in a case-based format. Conferences are scheduled for the last Thursday of each month at 7 am. To receive future conference invites, contact monica.m.hoeppner@healthpartners.com.

The case presentation for March was a woman with Endocrine Anomaly Masquerading as Psychiatric Illness- presented by Christopher Kodl, MD; Christine Stanson, MD; Tarrek Hegab, MD; Meredith Wold, PA-C. Watch recording of the conference here (first few minutes of last month's conference had to be re-recorded due to a technical error). Visit the case conference page on myPartner to view archived video recordings of previous conferences.

HealthPartners Clinical Simulation team visits St. Paul Public School

Our HealthPartners Clinical Simulation team recently visited the Washington Technology Magnet School in St. Paul with mannequins and experts.

Dr. Gaurav Suryawanshi and Dr. Echko Holman, along with members of the simulation team, participated in a simulation activity to teach biomedical students the fundamentals of medical care, including listening to heart and lung sounds and the basics of ultrasound and intubation. They also explored Healthcare careers with the students as well as shared information on how to become physicians, and other medical experts. "I haven't seen the students so engaged and enthusiastic for two years, it's been a very difficult couple of years in education with the on-going COVID pandemic," Meagan O'Brien, faculty of the biomedical program stated after the experience. The activity provided a fun and engaging learning experience for students, giving the next generation of healthcare professionals an opportunity to perform medical procedures with help from experts.

Advanced Practice Educational eXperience (APEX) Program launched

Our Advanced Practice Clinician Partnership work began last year to support clinical training for Advanced Practice students through partnerships with schools, preceptors, and clinical sites, reflecting HealthPartners' commitment to establishing a best-in-class clinical education environment for physician assistant and nurse practitioner students.

The first cohort of the Advanced Practice Educational eXperience (APEX) Program launched in January with an orientation for the first four students of the program. Learn more about the students here.

Willie Braziel receives honor for leadership on and off the basketball court

Willie will be honored with the AHME Presidents' Award, recognizing his contribution and leadership in AHME's educational activities for the last 15 years. He will be presented with the award in May.

He was also recently honored with the Minnesota Basketball Coaches Association 2021-2022 Class AAA Coach of the Year award for his leadership as Head Coach of the Columbia Heights Hylander boys' basketball team.

Congratulations to Willie for these high honors! He also was recently featured on Star Tribune's Prep podcast. <https://www.startribune.com/columbia-heights-boys-basketball-coach-willie-braziel-on-meeting-big-challenges/600139786/>

Maia Knox elected to the board of directors for the Association of Residency Coordinators in Orthopaedic Surgery (ARCOS).

Maia is one of only a handful of coordinators in the Twin Cities with a certification for training administrators in graduate medical education (TAGME) certification. In her time with TRIA she has continually elevated not only our sports fellowship program, but all other educational programs she interacts with. In 2021 Maia joined the Coordinator Advisory Work Group (CAWG) at the University of MN and most recently, Maia has joined the Coordinator Mentorship Program and currently serves as a mentor for two program coordinators.

ARCOS is a national professional organization for program coordinators of orthopedic surgery residencies and fellowships. It was established to create a national group of orthopaedic program coordinators to be recognized by both program directors and the orthopaedic community at large, to provide a support structure and advocacy forum for coordinators, and to further coordinators knowledge and skills through the exchange of ideas and information. Residency and fellowship program coordinators are the glue that keeps our programs together day in and out! ARCOS is officially recognized by the AAOS, ABOS, ACGME, AAMC, AOA and CORD.
