

OHPE Update:

A Newsletter for Residents, Students,
& Clinician Educators

June 2022

From the Office of Health Professional Education

June is a busy time for our program leaders as they work hard to plan graduations. It is a time for our graduating fellows and residents to celebrate their accomplishments with fellow graduates, faculty and program leaders. This year's graduates deserve an extra shout out for their resiliency through the last two years due to the pandemic. We will provide glimpses of these celebrations and recognize graduates in the upcoming newsletter.

In addition to graduation, this is the time we also welcome new colleagues into our organization. We will continue to share information about matched residents and fellows to our various programs. This year's orientation will be in person – and we are excited for our first in-person orientation in two years! See below for orientation dates.

OHPE Announcements

OHPE and medical education leaders kick off new leadership development series

Leaders in medical education across HealthPartners, along with colleagues from the VA and HCMC, came together on April 29 for the first cohort in a series of half-day events to kick-off the newly established leadership development series: Leadership in Medical Education (LIME).

This community building event created robust discussions and relationships to share best practices in strengthening team culture and creating a shared program vision through effective leadership. A list of challenges and effective hacks on these topics were harvested for distribution.

Plans are underway for at least 2 more sessions in 2022, in September and December. Jen Augustson and Felix Ankel are co-leaders of LIME. To get involved or if you have questions, contact felicia.g.jones@healthpartners.com.

Transitions in Medical Education Toolkits

Due to the disruption in medical education caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the ACGME released a toolkit last year for assisting trainees with the transition to residency. This toolkit has been updated for 2022 and is now available on the ACGME's website. Additionally, new toolkits were added to aid in the transition to fellowship as well as the transition to clinical practice.

For more information or to view the toolkits, visit <https://www.acgme.org/covid-19/transition-to-residency/>

Orthopedic APC Fellowship program welcomes first fellow

Alex Pierce, PA-C

Alex Pierce, PA-C, 2022-2023 Orthopedics Fellow

Undergrad: University of Minnesota | Grad: St. Catherine University

After graduating from the University of Minnesota, I worked as a nursing assistant on an orthopedic/spine surgery unit. The PAs I worked alongside not only had a wealth of knowledge and disciplined technical skills, but also strong relationships with their teammates and patients. It was this experience that led me to pursue a Master of Physician Assistant Studies from St. Catherine University, from which I graduated in 2022.

I am excited and honored to have been chosen as the first Orthopedic APC Fellow. My passion for orthopedic medicine has multiplied the more I learn and grow as a healthcare provider in the field.

HealthPartners Clinical Simulation adds a dedicated Valley Simulation Education Specialist

Don Brock, BSN, RN, will be a dedicated 0.6 simulation education specialist for the HealthPartners Valley Hospitals (Lakeview, Hudson, Westfield's and Amery). The addition of Don to HealthPartners Clinical simulation team aligns with the Valley's strategic vision expanding simulation services to our clinicians in rural healthcare delivery settings. Don will work closely with Valley site educators, leaders and clinicians to align our HealthPartners simulation mission, vision, assets and expertise.

Don will continue to serve as the Westfield's hospital clinical nursing educator. He has decades of experience as a flight paramedic, nursing educator, leader, and staff nurse in both the United States Airforce and private sectors.
