

Monitoring diuretic medications

This rate shows the percentage of members who took medications called diuretics for at least six months and are checked at least once during the year. Diuretics, also known as "water pills," reduce sodium and water in the body.

