

Child: Follow up care for children prescribed ADHD medication - Primary Care

Quality health care for a child with ADHD includes regular follow-up visits with their health care provider, especially after being prescribed medication. High rates of follow-up care can be a sign of strong performance in managing ADHD.

